1. Definitions

1.1 Dwelling and Other Structures

The dwelling includes the main residential building, attached structures, and permanently installed fixtures located at the insured location under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Other structures refer to unattached buildings on the premises, including detached garages, storage sheds, fences, and guest houses. Coverage applies to structures used strictly for residential purposes. Any structure utilized for commercial operations or unapproved manufacturing is excluded from protection.

1.2 Personal Property

Personal property includes movable goods, household items, furnishings, and personal belongings owned or used by the Insured under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Coverage extends to personal property while situated anywhere on the insured premises or temporarily located off-premises. Belongings owned by visitors or domestic employees while present on the property may also qualify for personal property coverage. Property held for trade, business, or tenancy is excluded.

1.3 Actual Cash Value and Replacement Cost

Actual Cash Value is defined as the replacement cost minus depreciation calculated at the exact moment of loss under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Replacement Cost represents the total expenditure necessary to replace or repair damaged property with new materials of like kind and quality without deducting depreciation. Depreciation adjustments account for physical wear, age, obsolescence, and pre-loss condition. Valuation criteria determine maximum payout amounts under the policy terms.

1.4 Sudden and Accidental Loss

A sudden and accidental loss is defined as an unexpected, unpredicted event that occurs at a definite, verifiable time under Policy Number POL-774012-H. The loss must result directly from an unintended peril rather than continuous exposure or long-term wear. Immediate physical evidence must establish the precise timing and nature of the occurrence. Continuous, repeated, or gradual losses do not constitute sudden and accidental events.

1.5 Deductible

The deductible represents the initial fixed amount or percentage of a covered loss that the Insured must pay under Policy Number POL-774012-H. The Insurer subtracts the applicable

2. Coverage

2.1 Dwelling Coverage

Dwelling coverage covers the home structure for fire, lightning, windstorm, hail, theft, vandalism and sudden and accidental water damage, up to $250,000 under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Protection applies to primary building materials, roofs, attached garages, and built-in home appliances up to the $250,000 maximum limit. The $250,000 limit represents the total aggregate liability of the Insurer for structural loss in a single occurrence. All structural loss claims remain subject to applicable policy deductibles.

2.2 Personal Property Coverage

Personal property coverage covers belongings at 50% of the dwelling limit, which is $125,000, paid at Actual Cash Value under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Total claims for personal property cannot exceed the $125,000 allowance per occurrence. Settlement payouts for contents are computed based on Actual Cash Value after deducting relevant depreciation. High-value categories remain subject to specific sub-limits outlined in the policy provisions.

2.3 Loss of Use

Loss of use pays extra living costs up to 20% of the dwelling limit, which is $50,000, while the home cannot be lived in after a covered loss under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Eligible expenses include temporary hotel accommodation, additional dining costs, and essential relocation services up to the $50,000 cap. Payment continues only for the reasonable time required to repair the structure or relocate permanently. All claimed expenses must be documented with itemized receipts.

2.4 Personal Liability

Personal liability pays up to $100,000 per occurrence for injury or damage the Insured causes to others under Policy Number POL-774012-H. This coverage covers legal defense fees, court judgments, and approved settlements up to the $100,000 limit. Protection applies to covered accidental events occurring on the insured premises or worldwide through personal activities. Liability arising from professional operations, vehicles, or intentional acts is excluded.

2.5 Special Limit for High-Value Items

Jewelry, watches and furs are covered up to $2,500 in total unless scheduled separately under Policy Number POL-774012-H. The cumulative reimbursement for all stolen, lost, or damaged high-value items is capped at the $2,500 sub-limit per occurrence. To secure protection above

3. Cost Sharing

3.1 Standard Deductible

The deductible is $1,000 per claim under Policy Number POL-774012-H. The Insured pays the initial $1,000 out-of-pocket for each covered occurrence affecting the dwelling or personal property. The $1,000 standard deductible is deducted directly from the final calculated loss amount. This deductible applies to all claims except those subject to specific wind and hail terms.

3.2 Wind and Hail Deductible

The deductible is 2% of the dwelling limit, which is $5,000, for wind and hail claims under Policy Number POL-774012-H. When structural or property damage is caused directly by windstorm, tornado, or hail, the $5,000 deductible replaces the standard deductible amount. The Insured is responsible for the full $5,000 before the Insurer issues claim payments. This 2% deductible applies separately to each distinct wind or hail occurrence.

3.3 Replacement Cost Settlement

The Insurer first pays Actual Cash Value and pays the remaining replacement cost after the repair or replacement is completed and documented under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Initial indemnification covers the depreciated Actual Cash Value less the applicable deductible. The Insured must finish all repairs or item replacements within a specified timeframe to claim the remaining withheld depreciation amount. Final payment requires verified invoices and completion receipts.

4. Exclusions and Limitations

4.1 Flood Exclusion

Loss from flood, surface water and rising groundwater is not covered under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Damage caused by overflowing natural or artificial bodies of water, storm surges, or subsurface water pressure is excluded from all coverage sections. Water entry through foundations, basements, or exterior walls due to surface accumulation is not indemnified. The Insured must purchase separate flood insurance for protection against flood hazards.

4.2 Earthquake Exclusion

Loss from earthquake and earth movement is not covered under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Excluded events include seismic shocks, land tremors, landslides, mudflows, earth sinking,

4.3 Gradual Damage and Poor Maintenance

Loss from gradual leaks, seepage, rot, mold, rust, and lack of maintenance is not covered under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Deterioration taking place over extended periods does not qualify as sudden and accidental damage. The Insured must perform ongoing property maintenance to prevent environmental decay, roof leaks, and plumbing corrosion. Losses resulting from neglected upkeep or continuous water exposure will be denied.

4.4 Vacancy

If the home is vacant for more than 60 days in a row, vandalism and water damage are not covered under Policy Number POL-774012-H. A dwelling is considered vacant when it lacks sufficient furnishings and personal items for normal residential occupancy. After 60 consecutive days of vacancy, protection for vandalism, malicious mischief, frozen pipes, and water discharge is suspended. Full coverage resumes once the home is reoccupied for regular living purposes.

4.5 Intentional Loss

Loss caused on purpose by the Insured is not covered under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Deliberate acts intended to damage, destroy, or burn property void coverage for all insured parties under the contract. The Insurer will not pay for any claim arising from fraudulent, illegal, or intentional acts committed by or with the consent of the Insured. The Insured forfeits all rights to recovery following intentional property destruction.

4.6 Business Property and Business Use

Business equipment and business activity are not covered under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Structures used exclusively for commercial enterprise, merchandise inventory, and office equipment used in business operations are excluded from property protection. Personal liability coverage does not extend to bodily injury or property damage arising out of professional services or home occupations. Commercial activities require a dedicated commercial insurance policy.

4.7 Loss Outside the Policy Period

Loss occurring before the effective date or after the expiration date is not covered under Policy Number POL-774012-H. The policy applies strictly to incidents that originate during the active policy term listed on the declarations page. Any damage originating prior to policy inception or following cancellation is excluded from indemnification. Timely premium payments are required to maintain valid policy coverage.

5. Claim Evidence

5.1 Police Report

A police report is required for theft and vandalism under Policy Number POL-774012-H. The Insured must notify local law enforcement authorities immediately upon discovering any act of theft, burglary, or intentional property destruction. A copy of the formal police incident report and assigned case number must be provided to the Insurer. Failure to supply a police report for theft or vandalism will result in claim denial.

5.2 Inventory and Receipts

The Insured must give a list of damaged or stolen items with receipts, photos or other proof of value under Policy Number POL-774012-H. The itemized inventory must specify the description, quantity, age, purchase date, and estimated replacement cost of each item. Supporting documentation such as original purchase receipts, owner manuals, warranty records, or pre-loss photographs must accompany the claim form. Missing evidence may cause items to be excluded from settlement.

5.3 Damage Documentation

Photos of the damage and a written repair estimate from a licensed contractor are required for any structural claim under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Photographs must clearly show both the overall structural impact and detailed close-ups of damaged building elements. The written repair estimate must itemize labor charges, material costs, and structural scope of work. Structural claims will not be evaluated without contractor documentation.

5.4 Emergency Repairs

Reasonable emergency repairs to prevent further damage are reimbursed up to $2,500 with receipts under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Covered mitigation measures include board-up services, tarping roofs, and temporary water extraction. The Insured must retain all itemized receipts and proof of payment to receive reimbursement up to the $2,500 cap. Emergency repair expenditures count toward the total dwelling coverage limit.

6. Claims Procedure

6.1 Reporting a Claim

A loss must be reported within 60 days and the claim must state the policy number, date of loss, cause and description under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Notice must be delivered promptly through the official claims portal or written notification channels of the Insurer. Failure to submit complete loss details within 60 days of the occurrence may void coverage due to prejudiced claim investigation. The Insured must certify that all submitted facts are complete and accurate.

6.2 Claim Review

The Insurer reviews coverage, cause of loss, exclusions, evidence, and the amount claimed under Policy Number POL-774012-H. The evaluation verifies policy status, covered perils, and applicability of specific exclusions or limits. Adjusters assess submitted photos, contractor estimates, and inventory lists against standard valuation databases. Final approved calculations are determined following completion of the claim review.

6.3 Claims Requiring Human Review

Any claim of $5,000 or more, any denial, any suspected fire or water loss caused by neglect, and any claim with an exclusion is reviewed by a licensed human adjuster before a final decision under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Automated claim processing systems are prohibited from finalizing determinations that involve any of these four specific conditions. The licensed human adjuster conducts an independent examination of all evidence, reports, and coverage terms. Written notice of the decision will be provided once the licensed human adjuster completes the review.

6.4 Payment

Approved amounts are paid after the deductible; never above the applicable limit under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Indemnity payouts are reduced by the $1,000 standard deductible or the $5,000 wind and hail deductible. Cumulative payments cannot exceed $250,000 for dwelling, $125,000 for personal property, $50,000 for loss of use, or $100,000 for liability. Payouts are made directly to the Insured or designated lienholders.

6.5 Inspection

The Insurer may inspect the property before approving a claim under Policy Number POL-774012-H. The Insured must grant the Insurer's authorized representatives reasonable access to inspect the damaged dwelling and premises. Refusal to permit physical inspection of the

7. Decisions and Appeals

7.1 Notice of Decision

The Insurer issues a formal written Notice of Decision upon concluding the evaluation of a claim under Policy Number POL-774012-H. The notice provides an itemized breakdown of approved payments, applied deductibles, or explicit policy reasons for claim denial. For claims reaching $5,000 or involving exclusions, neglect reviews, or denials, the notice confirms examination by a licensed human adjuster. This written notice establishes the date of origin for appeal filing deadlines.

7.2 Right to Appeal

The Insured has the right to request a formal review of any decision within 30 days of the notice, and may submit additional documents with the request under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Requests for appeal must be submitted in writing and clearly detail the reasons for disputing the decision. Additional contractor estimates, repair receipts, or expert reports may be attached to support the request. Appeals filed after the 30-day window will not be accepted.

7.3 Review of Appeals

Appeals are reviewed by a different adjuster and decided within 30 days under Policy Number POL-774012-H. The reviewing adjuster operates independently from the original claim handling personnel to ensure a objective re-evaluation. All original files, initial determinations, and new documentation will be re-examined. The Insurer will communicate the final written appeal decision to the Insured within the 30-day review period.

8. Fraud and Misrepresentation

8.1 Accurate Information

The Insured must provide true, complete, and correct information during application issuance and claim processing under Policy Number POL-774012-H. Material facts regarding property condition, occupancy status, protective devices, and loss details must be accurately disclosed. Concealment or misrepresentation of key facts invalidates contractual obligations. The Insured has an ongoing duty to notify the Insurer of material risk changes.

8.2 Consequences

A knowingly false claim may be denied and the policy cancelled under Policy Number POL-774012-H. If the Insured makes fraudulent statements or submits fabricated evidence, the
